This money, together with contributions received through the four banks of the city, twas taken to Washington by J. T. Preston, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and turned over to the Red Cross officials. The free-will offering at the organ recital tonight at the Second Presbyterian Church will be sent to the flood sufferers at once.

All the banks in the city are accepting money from citizens, to be turned into the Red Cross fund. In addition to this, a number of fraternal organizations also are preparing to make donations.

Mayor Thomas A. Pisher stated today that he hoped the citizens desiring to contribute to the flood victims would do so through the banks or responsible persons, who will forward the money. He did not think it necessary to take any action at this time, in view of the fact that contributions are being forwarded to the Red Cross Society through the banks and others as soon as received. weather.
